

28/05/2012

We have been using SHERM since January 2012 and have found it a very useful business solution. The ability to upload and manage documents across the business, including multiple locations and authority levels, has given us more control than ever over our system documentation. With just over 50 staff, we are also utilising the HR component of SHERM to manage and track all our employee records and training. We have just started using the plant register and have seen the immediate advantage in moving away from a spreadsheet sitting on a single machine, to a cloud based system designed for the purpose. With SHERM we now have better control, visibility and management of our organisations systems, equipment and people than ever before.

Dave Whitefield
Director